

PERSONAL INFORMATION

📍 Kyriakos Filinis studied Economics (BA) and European and International Studies (MSc) at the University of Athens. He holds PhD from the University of Athens on political economy of labour market reforms.

His research interests focus on labour economics, employment policies, skills and human capital development. He teaches at the University of Western Attica.

Current position

Senior Advisor

SEV Hellenic Federation of Enterprises